To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Mr. Dhiraj Dhungana, who has recently completed the Master of Information Technology program at the Sydney International School of Technology and Commerce. Throughout his studies, Dhiraj has consistently demonstrated exceptional academic performance, strong leadership skills, and an admirable work ethic.

Dhiraj's academic record reflects both depth and breadth in key areas of Information Technology. He achieved High Distinctions in several advanced subjects, including Big Data (89.5%), Object-Oriented Programming (91%), Advanced Data Analytics (91%), and his Capstone Project (85%). Across the course, his results remained consistently at Distinction level or higher, reflecting both mastery of technical concepts and the ability to apply them effectively in practical contexts.

In addition to his academic excellence, Dhiraj stood out for his leadership abilities. As the leader of his final-year group project, he guided his team to deliver what was recognised as the best project of the cohort. This achievement required not only technical proficiency but also the ability to manage timelines, foster collaboration, and ensure quality outcomes under challenging conditions.

Dhiraj approaches his work with discipline, initiative, and integrity. He is highly adaptable, capable of delivering results even in demanding circumstances, and consistently demonstrates a commitment to continuous learning. These qualities, combined with his strong technical skills in data analytics and software development, make him well-prepared for professional roles such as IT Analyst, Software Developer, Data Analyst, or related positions in the technology sector.

Sincerely,

A/Prof Hamid Salarian
